

[4 월-2 실전대화] 효율적인 선거일

A: Alright mate, have you thought about what we should do today? The election is happening, but I'm torn between going to vote or just going out to have some fun.

be torn between ~중에 고민이다, 갈피를 못 잡다

B: Yeah, I've been thinking about that too. Come to think of it, since I support the opposition party and you support the ruling party, it doesn't really matter if we both go or not, does it?

Come to think of it 그러고 보니, 생각해 보니

the opposition party 야당

the ruling party 여당

A: I feel the same way. I'm worried about wasting our time if we go to vote.

4.17 I'm worried about N/V-ing 난 ~이 걱정돼.

B: Yeah, that's true. Plus, I can't stand waiting in line for hours.

4.20 I can't stand N/V-ing 난 ~을 참을 수 없어.

A: Indeed. I accidentally wet myself while waiting in line before! I don't know why we should stress ourselves out over something that might not even matter.

And no matter who wins, the outcome will be the same for both of us.

wet oneself (옷 입고 있는 상태에서) 오줌을 지리다

4.23 I don't know why ~ 왜 ~인지 모르겠어.

stress out 스트레스 받다 (out 은 한도를 넘어서 스트레스 누앙스)

B: Yeah, it can't be worth it. Besides, we're more likely to have a good time if we go out.

4.24 It can't be ~ 그게 ~할[일] 리가 없어.

4.26 be more likely to-V ~할 가능성이 더 높다

A: Totally! Let's just go have some fun. But it'll come as a shock to everyone when they realise we didn't vote.

4.29 come as a shock to someone ~에게는 큰 충격이다

B: Don't worry, nobody cares about us anyway.
